First issue free, additional copies $1

WEDNESDAY FEBRUARY 8, 2012

WWW.TALONMARKS.COM

VOLUME 56, NO. 14

Cerritos ready for student success plan set to take effect

VICTOR DIAZ Editor-in-Chief editor@talonmarks.com

Cerritos College is ahead of the curve in implementing upcoming statewide student success reforms, according to Dean of Academic Success and Institutional Effectiveness Bryan Reece.

A reform package was adopted by the California Community Colleges Board of Governors on Jan. 9, which will implement changes to all community colleges in the state in regard to student success.

Some of the plans that are to be put in place have already been implemented by Cerritos College, according to Reece.

"I think some colleges are going to be in a spot where they now look at the plan and now they start thinking about how to implement it; we have mature activities and projects that meet many of the goals in the success plan," he said.

Statistics released by the college on Sept. 15 showed that student success rates have risen over the course of three years, ranging from 2008 to 2011.

Student success increased by 3.9 percent, starting at 66.48 percent in 2008-09 to 70.4 percent in 2010-11.

Retention rates also increased during the same timespan, beginning at 81.76 percent in 2008-09 to 84.07 percent in 2010-11, an improvement of 2.3 per-

The Counseling, Fine Arts and Humanities and Social Sciences Divisions were part of the increase in student success, increasing their success rates by 5.4 percent, 7.6 percent and 6.6 percent, respectively.

One of the recommendations put in place by the task force is to increase college and career readiness within the K-12 educational system, with emphasis on helping high school juniors and seniors.

According to Reece, Cerritos College is currently working with the ABC Unified School District in creating a system to prepare students for the college's assess-

"We did a pilot [program] last fall and students that took this course got higher scores on the assessment tests, on average, they jumped an entire course.

"For example, before, if they were assessing into Math 20, they were now assessing into Math 40."

One recommendation that Cerritos is currently in progress of meeting is to require incoming students to declare a major at the time of enrollment.

Reece said, "The main idea here is to have every student make an educational plan, and with developing an ed plan, you have to declare a major. Instead of coming in here with no idea of what you want to do, come in

See Student Success Page 2

Falcons enshrined: The logo for the Cerritos College Hall of Fame has been created. Six former members of the Cerritos College community will be induced on Apr. 12.

Staff and alumni chosen for inaugural hall of fame class

JOHN GONZALEZ Staff Writer john.gonzalez@talonmarks.com

Cerritos College will induct six members into the first-ever class of its Hall of Fame.

The Hall of Fame members include notable alumni and faculty members such as Ron Yary, Edward Bloomfield, Barbara Reinalda, Wally Kincaid, Jerry Roodzant and John Gallant. Multiple committees nominated and voted for who they thought was most qualified from a strict list of criteria.

Inductees had to have been enrolled or working at the school, had to be retired, and had to have given back their time and services substantially to the school. After his professional football career ended, Yary opened up a photography business with his brother and has taken pictures for multiple professional and colle-

He has given back to the Cerritos College community by taking photos for all of the faculty and photos for the sports teams. Roozant has given back to the school, including a time when he gave one student a dental makeover so she could have a more professional look when she goes out to try and find a job.

Bloomfield helps with tutoring and scholarships for all of the students on the Cerritos campus.

He also donated some equipment and held a fundraiser after a faculty member got into an accident and his family couldn't pay for the medical bills.

See Hall of Fame Page 2

Scan to view the final

Scan to listen to an interview with Bryan Reece report of the task force about student success rates

http://bit.ly/yCJiOE

http://bit.ly/x9imq8

MARTIN CALDERON Staff Writer martin.calderon@talonmarks.com

Broadcasting Club President Jaime Rob Flores announced that he will be hosting a new show titled "Falcon Spotlight" which is devoted to promoting clubs on campus.

The show is scheduled to air Mondays at 9 a.m. to 10 a.m. on www.wpmd.org.

The show will serve as a networking platform between clubs.

For clubs interested in being on the show, Flores suggests dropping off flyers.

"If you have flyers bring a couple and put them in our mailbox. The more flyers you put in there, the more potential of multiple shows playing them."

WPMD is located in the Burnight Center.

Clubs in blood drive competition

ALEXA BAZUA Staff Writer alexa.bazua@talonmarks.com

Several clubs on campus will be competing to see who can donate the most blood the week of Feb.13-17.

The Blood Mobile will come to the Cerritos campus and donors who are in a club can earn one point for the club they mention.

The clubs have many competitions throughout the semester, and so far the kinesiology club is in the top spot.

Commissioner of ICC Daniel Fragoso believes the kinesiology club has a good chance of taking the win.

"They're a strong club, so I think they will win this

Workshop to help students on keys to balancing family and school

JUAN LOPEZ Staff Writer juan.lopez@talonmarks.com

Child Development faculty member, Angela Beck will be presenting the four keys to balancing family and school workshop on Feb. 9, 2012 in SS 139, from 2 p.m.-3 p.m.

The workshop will go over time management, study skills, building a support system and finding quality childcare.

Beck commented on the reason for the workshop, saying, "Students just have so much going on these days, everybody works, comes to school and has a family.

It kind of goes along with the iFalcon habits of mind, just how to be organized and kind of manage yourself to be successful."

Having fun in the snow: Edgar Aranda and his children, Elijah and Yomaris take part in the annual Cerritos College snowy day. Snowy day event took place at the child

Families enjoy snowy day

ENRIQUE RIVERA News Editor news@talonmarks.com

Parents and children showed up to the annual "Snowy Day" event at the child development center of Cerritos College on Feb. 3.

"It's amazing, especially for kids who have never been around the snow, like my son," Parent Laura Arroyo said.

The children had a chance to make a snowman, go down on a snowy slide and play with the snow with their classmates and for the parents. Parent Rudy Ramirez enjoys the uniqueness of the snow also. "My brothers' kids go to similar schools but they never have anything like this" he said. Organizers asked for a donation of $10 to participate in the event.

The donation admitted a family of four and included a bowl of chili, cornbread, and hot cocoa with marshmallows.

Cyndi Romero, a teacher in the ocean room, a room in the child development center, and who also helped put the event together explained, "It's just a lies and the community, and it's not for

Volunteer and Cerritos College student Irma Saenz explained the reason why they decided to serve hot cocoa and and the cummu- a company called The Ice-

"It just adds to the event, it adds to \emph{nity} the fun of the snow," she said.

Romero explained the overall goal. "It's just for parents, teachers and faculties to get together and basically just get to know each other," she said.

Step-parent Ivan Meza brought his child so that his child can enjoy the snow but also because he was curious as to how the center was able to bring some snow

"I was just wondering how they were able to get way for us to get together with the fami- It's just a way for some snow here," he said. Romero explained us to get together how they were able to bring the snow. with the families

CYNDI ROMERO

"We get the snow from man," she said.

Iceman is a Bellflower company that distributes ice for beverage coolers as well as to use for professional sculptures for par-)) ties and weddings.

Student task force: leading in student success

Continued from Page 1:

with some idea."

Other recommendations include incentivizing good student behaviors, which is currently taking place at Cerritos by giving priority enrollment to students with higher grade point averages and improving the education of basic skills, which was met by analyzing basic skills data in students as well as creating a success center on campus.

Chemistry major Jeremy Macias uses on-campus resources available to improve student success such as the new math center, located on the bottom floor of the library.

"It's pretty effective because they have actual professors tutoring at certain hours and other times there are students [tutoring]," Ma-

Undecided major Zachary Cota believes that a more traditional method of achieving student success is simply communicating with instructors and using them as additional resources.

"If I need any help with my classes, I can always go to my teachers during their office hours. I'm taking a semi-independent math class where I can go and get help for my math work any time I want," Cota said.

The deadline for the board of governors to submit the plan to the state legislature for review is on March 1.

Students benefit from scholarship workshop

Luis Guzman Staff Writer luis.guzman@talonmarks.com

The scholarship workshop is for students who need help in the scholarship-applying process.

Students attended the workshop that was held on Feb. 2, which answered questions that involved getting a scholarship.

The workshop touched on the subjects on personal statements, essays, and searching for scholarship resources.

One of the goals of the workshop is to guide a student who is applying for a scholarship to reach the deadline for submitting documents for scholarships.

The workshop gives helpful tips on going through scholarship process.

Financial Aid Technician Veronica Castro gave tips like reading applications carefully and making sure a students understands all the requirements that are asked for in a iTunes U: Students benefit from iTunes U

Continued from Page 1:

With the amount of people who have Apple devices on campus, English major, Katherine Grijalva sees the big factor that the iTunes U app can benefit the students.

"They'll [students] have more access to their homework, videos or even music on the go," she said.

With iTunes U, undecided major Adolfo Rodriguez explains that there won't be much of an excuse for students to miss lectures and homework thanks to the app.

"I do see a lot of students that have iPods and iPads that way you won't have an excuse just because you weren't able to use a computer," scholarship.

Nursing major Laura Moreno talked about the workshop.

"The workshop helped me a lot because I was lost but now I have guidance to go through the process," she said.

Castro also offered help with spelling, grammar, and all areas that are involved in a personal state-

The workshop also gives a student advice towards writing neatly on essays and personal statements.

The workshops purpose is to get students who need money for school to apply for scholarships.

Castro said, "My goal is to have students be confident and not give up on applying for scholarships."

The next scholarship workshop will be held in March 20 in Room: BE 3 starting at 5 p.m and ending at 6 p.m.

Hall of fame: First inductees announced

Continued from Page 1:

He also hosts a golf tournament to help raise funds for the school and scholarship programs.

"We want to see people who are involved in the school, who have not only stood out but who have done something to better the school and the students as well," Director of Public and Government Relations Mark Wallace said.

"Sure there is a long list of notable alumni such as Joe Gibbs, a three-time Super Bowl-winning coach, and Olympian Houston Mc-Tear, but none of them gave back to the school like our inductees," President Linda Lacy said.

An inaugural induction ceremony will be held to honor those who have been inducted to the Hall of Fame on Apr. 12, and will be attended by all of the inductees.

Get Your Associates Degre	e
and go to Law School.

☐ Good Idea].
-------------	----

Enroll in Trinity Law School in the Fall.

You can attend law school upon completion of your Associates Degree. Go straight to law school. Save time, save money, and get a great education with unlimited opportunities.

TRINITY LAW SCHOOL

2200 North Grand Avenue, Santa Ana, CA 92705 800.922.4748 | www.TLS.edu

• EDITORIAL •

Graduating into employment announced the initiative of a partnership between community colleges and businesses that he hopes will train workers in skills that can lead them directly into a job.

This will greatly help people that are looking for a job, and are unable to do so for lack of experience.

A great thing about the initiative is that it virtually removes the ever-present argument of "how do I get experience when no one will give it to me?"

One great benefit about this plan is that not only would it motivate more people to return back to school, but the benefit of completing their collegiate education if the increased potential of obtaining gainful employment.

We will finally have that chance. Instead of living in a world where experience trumps skill, we will be able to live in a world where experience meets skill and will ultimately pave the way for opportunity.

Since students would have an increased chance at finding a job after graduating, they are more likely to stick with school and want to graduate.

It seems as if the benefits far outweigh any risks as far as this initiative is concerned.

While community colleges can potentially become viewed as more

President Barack Obama has of trade school-type education, the end goal of the varying types of institutions remains the same: em-

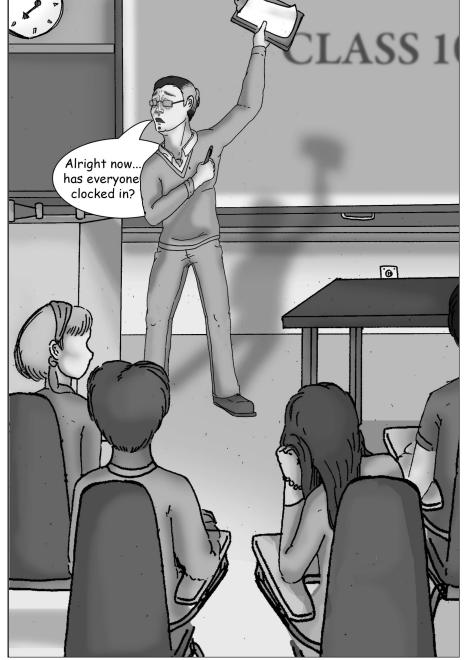

> This plan is a good thing, with tremendous potential to drastically benefit and build the struggling economy that we currently experi-

Some may think that this program will make community colleges similar to that of a trade school, but if calling Cerritos College a trade school helps students become gainfully employed when graduating, then let us change our name to Cerritos College Trade School.

Students would no longer have to be concerned about being viewed as inexperienced hopefuls, and employers would be able to rest in knowing that they have an opportunity to gain a fresh, determined employee.

This program would help all students. While Cerritos College is already a truly wonderful place for students to experience education, it would become a place of hope, excitement and increased success that follows you long after you have graduated.

We need to all keep our fingers crossed and hope that this initiative gains steam, because as it grows, so grows our chance at education and employment.

Illustrated by Alejandra Ayala/TM

"How do you feel about the amount of security on the parking lot?"

> COMPILED BY: JOHN GONZALEZ PHOTOGRAPHS BY: ALEXANDRA SCOVILLE

TIFFANY RIVAS undecided major

"I feel safe. I always see officers out there patrolling [the parking lot]."

MANUEL MACHADO physical therapy major

"I park every day in the parking lot and I have not seen a strong presence of [security officers]."

Geo Herrera undecided major

"I think it's good. Eventually you're going to have to trust the security on campus with your things."

business administration majo

I teel that sometimes the security officers are not on point and they're not doing their job."

CHRISTOPHER BIAZA registered nurse major

"I never see any officers monitoring cars. From a scale of one to ten, I give them a five."

BRANDON LABEET business major

"I haven't had any personal problems, but I've seen some bad things happen [in the parking lot]."

Acting civilized in the parking lot is a must

The Cerritos College parking lot that can be a civilized area to park our vehicles, or it can be a wild, uncontrollable jungle, free of rules and common minutes. courtesy.

A code of etiquette needs to be observed when approaching our parking

By observing these rules, behav- take his rightful spot. iors and processes in the parking lot, we can make things better for all of us.

Observe the "waiting rule."

As an incoming driver, be considerate to those who have been waiting, because chances are, they've been in for a mini-waiting in a lane and another car is other driver and he does not know if lots by all Cerritos College students coming out of its spot, just drive past you're just sitting in your car to give the two cars and let the waiting driver him a hard time, which can lead to a

2. Sitting = loitering.

If you are going into your car to sit and relax and there is a car waiting for a spot, please let the driver know that you are not leaving as soon as you see the driver look at you to indicate his > bad incident fueled by a driver's worst enemy: road rage.

VICTOR DIAZ Editor-in-Chief editor@talonmarks.com

your spot.

ing so con-

Not do-

3. You're not leaving? Get your stuff and get out.

Telling another driver you're not leaving doesn't just apply to sitting in your car; you may just need to get potential something out of your car for your retrieval of next class.

> When this is the case, communicating with the other driver is still required to avoid confusion and anger. In short, just get your things, let > the driver know you're not going anywhere and go about your day. Your car isn't going anywhere, so don't worry about standing there to protect it.

> These are three basic rules that, if followed, can make finding parking on campus a much easier experience.

> Let's pull in to the lot, throw our turn signal on and have a nice day.

If you snooze in the parking lot, you lose

We need people to grow up and stop complaining about the most trivial of things, like parking. We don't need an unwritten rule to help facilitate

Some people have a family and arrive just after dropping off their children at school or day care. They should not have to be subjected to this "code of the parking lot" and risk being late for class simply because they did not being able to spend thirty minutes looking for a space.

It isn't even possible to police something like this. Even if someone has been waiting for a space with their car turned off, laying back in their seat, that does not entitle them to a spot in front of them.

Yet another argument as to why this whole thing is silly is that if someone is waiting for a space in front of them and a space opens up behind them, there is no way for other drivers to know which space the person is waiting for.

In no way can an argument be made that people should drive around for undetermined amounts of time missing out on parking spaces to ensure that "M.C. Sensitive" doesn't get offended.

Here is a perfect solution. Let's all petition the powers that be on campus and demand that all classes cater to those that drive. We could move all classes to the parking lot thus eliminating the argument for such a pointless code.

We could have class in our cars.

Better yet, here is an idea. Why don't you stop complaining about people taking your space and park further back in the parking lot.

A little walking never hurt anyone.

We can't just go around suggesting codes of ethics for anything that we don't get our way on.

A fact of life as adults is that sometimes bad things happen to undeserving people. All is fair in love and parking, people.

> TALON MARKS is a First Amendment publication. Editorials express the views of the Editorial Board. Other opinions express the view of the author and are not to be considered opinions of the publication's staff, the Editorial Board, the advisers, the Cerritos College Associated Students, the college administration or the Board of Trustees. Production and printing of Talon Marks is partially funded by the Associated Students of Cerritos College.

> Facilities and academic supervision are provided by the Journalism Program. Newsroom offices are located in the Fine Arts Building, Room FA42.

> > Cerritos College is located at 11110 Alondra Blvd., Norwalk, CA 90650 Telephone numbers: (562) 860-2451, ext. 2617 FAX (562) 467-5044 Vol. 56 © 2011 Talon Marks

Talon Marks

Editor in Chief Victor Diaz

Opinion Editor

Sports Editor

Managing & Multimedia Editor

Louiscreas Akins, Israel Arzate, Aman Batra, Alexa Bazua, Martin Calderon, Matthew Caldwell, Arttay Davis, Lindsey Fuller, John Gonzalez, Luis Guzman, Mario Jimenez, German Lara, Juan Lopez, Cassandra Meuret, Sarah Niemann, Rodrigo Nunez, Tania Olivas, Sri Ramanathan, Jose Ruiz, Alexandra Scoville, Laura Trujillo, Wilmer Vargas and Michael Westerfield

JACC Pacesetter Award Faculty Adviser Rich Cameron

Spring 2012

Staff

News Editor

Campus News Hour Director

Did one of us write something that ground your gears? Do you want to congratulate us on the great job we're doing? Whatever the case may be, we would love to hear from you, our readers. Send a LETTER to the EDITOR. We accept electronic mail at editor@talonmarks.com and boring regular mail at our office in FA-42. If you want your letter or e-mail to be printed, you must proudly sign it with your real name.

Letters in poor taste will not be printed. This means we don't want any hate speech or conspiracy theories (unless they're hilarious). We only edit your letters for length to print them, but they appear in full online.

If the subject of your letter is campus-related, then it will be given priority.

Online Editor Patrick Dolly

Inspiration through misery: Student spotlight Galileo Gonzalez stands next to his art piece titled "Everything Fall Apart." This is the first piece to be featured in the art galleries' student spotlight.

Director and Curator James

MacDevitt, took time to share his knowledge about each piece with

Art exposed through emotions in gallery

tions' DJ.

MARTIN CALDERON martin.calderon@talonmarks.com

An opening reception was held at the Cerritos College Art Gallery on Jan. 31 to promote its newest art exhibition titled, Facial Expressionism, 'Immanence Envisaged.'

Students, as well as the general public were invited to get a first look at artwork created by 16 artists from around the world.

The Art Club hosted the reception from 5 p.m. to 8 p.m. and courtyard just outside the gallery.

provided complimentary Hors d'oeuvres and beverages in the spectators. He also introduced visitors to the "Student Spotlight." This exhibition marks the galleries first "Student Spotlight," which is a wall devoted to art created by art communication major Galileo Gonzalez. Gonzalez's piece is made from a re-constructed cargo pellet that he found at work and used different colors to paint an abstract image of a man on it, whom is holding his

MARTIN CALDERON/TM

Cerritos College students such as

Gonzalez found his inspiration for the piece while he was a student, working graveyard shifts at a local grocery store.

"I was miserable. It was hell and Once inside, guests were greetwas more hostile and angrier then. ed by Cerritos College student and I did a series of paintings based on Gallery Manager Joseph Cervantes, my graveyard shift and how it made who provided music as the recepme feel," he said.

MacDevitt spoke about Gonza-

"Galileo's piece attracted me and became the impetuous for the Facial Expressionism show itself," MacDevitt said.

Visitors included family, friends, as well as students from other cam-

MacDevitt commented on the gallery, saying, "It's good for him [Gonzalez] and the community as a whole, to be able to see the work the students are exploring right now, in their own sort of nascency, could very easily bloom into a full fledged art career."

Undeclared major Mickey Itani described her favorite piece from the exhibit saying, "I love the explosive energy of it."

Several classes paid a visit to the gallery which served as a teaching tool for ESL professor Norberto

"In my lesson plans there was a section on facial expressions and words to describe feelings, and thought it would be great to bring my class to practice some of the vocabulary that we are learning," he

The exhibition is at the Cerritos College Art Gallery.

"Vivisection" at the Cerritos Art Gallery. Visitors to the gallery included family, friends and students from different schools. I was half asleep most of the time. I Hope and love for Beatles music lives on through radio show on WPMD by instructor

Worth taking a look: A visitor stops to capture her favorite piece of art titled

ROSAURA MONTES Arts Editor arts@talonmarks.com

Part-time instructor and instructional aide Casey Piotrowski marks ten years of The Beatles Show at the end of January.

"I am very proud of The Beatles Show. It is cleverly conceived.

"I think its very strongly written, energetically delivered and well produced," Piotrowski said.

Piotrowski has been the man behind the microphone for the last decade to promote the music of The Beatles and shares history through the band's career together.

"I think it's really cool that there's an instructor who has his own Beatles' show at school," psychology major Ruby Bermudez

The Beatles show is not only on every Tuesday from 8 p.m. to 9 p.m. but is heard through twenty broadcast stations around the country and is streamed on the Internet.

"I'm very pleased about that and people get to listen to it," Piotrowski

The Beatles show is assembled and worked on by Piotrowski at his

Courtesy of Casey Piotrowski Passion for radio: Piotrowski has been part of radio broadcasting since he was 15 years old. He teaches intro to theatre this semester.

Not only does Piotrowski have a passion for radio broadcasting, but he his also an actor. "Performing is such a love of mine," he said.

"I have written and been on network television, appeard on independent films and was even the Honey Nut Cheerios Bee in City Walk. You do whatever you have to do as a performer," Piotrowski said.

Paul McCartney releases new album this week

Album Review

Kisses on the Bottom By: Paul McCartney Rating: ★ ★ ★ ★

> Rosaura Montes Arts Editor arts@talonmarks.com

Paul McCartney doesn't live up to his Beatles' reputation on his new released album, "Kisses on the Bottom."

The entire album is filled with intimate, charming jazz-based blues music wrapped around together through guitar, bass and piano.

The only two original works that McCartney composed were the singles, "My Valentine," and "Only Our Hearts."

Except the two original songs, McCartney performs compositions from the 1920's and 1930's that he grew up listening to.

Guitar God Eric Clapton and Stevie Wonder make a guest appearance on "My Valentine," a song that promises a charming win to flatter anyone who wishes to impress another person.

There is a vibe throughout the album that envisions a romantic red wine drinking sense and has a picture written throughout the songs of a woman dressed in a red cocktail dress having a dinner date with a man wearing a suit, slow dancing to the album.

Drummer Bill Ward steps out from metal band Black Sabbath

By NATE JACKSON Los Angeles Times (MCT)

Iconic metal band Black Sabbath could be facing another hitch in its plans to reemerge with a new tour and forthcoming album this year due to drummer Bill Ward's unhappiness with the touring and recording contact he was offered.

Ward released a public statement on Feb. 2 saying that the proposed agreement was "unsignable" and would cause him to lose his "rights, dignity and respectability as a rock musician."

The news comes less than a month after the band publicly revealed that it was forced to pull out as headliners of this year's Coachella festival line-up due to guitarist Tony Iommi's lymphoma diagnosis.

The band's album, slated for November of this year, has moved production over to the U.K., which Ward has yet to take part in. However, he has said that he's ready to get on a plane and record with original members Ozzy Obourne, Geezer Butler and Iommi if he can work out a more suitable contract.

"The place I'm in feels lousy and lonely because as much as I want to play and participate, I also have to stand for something and not sign on," Ward said in a statement.

Though he declines to mention any details of his proposed contact, Ward says that he's unable to get any information from the band about the status of the U.K. recording sessions or whether or not there's a possibility of him being replaced on the record or the tour.

While bickering over contract agreements has nagged at the band's previous reunion endeavors, Ward - the band's original drummer since 1968 - says he is holding out for respect, not money.

"After the last tour I vowed to never again sign on to an unreasonable contract," Ward said. "I want a contract that shows some respect to me and my family, a contract that will honor all that I've brought to Black Sabbath since its beginning."

(c)2012 the Los Angeles Times Distributed by MCT Information Services.

TM Trivia

Who were the two lead singers that Bill Ward played for in Black Sabbath?

A. Bruce Dickinson and Tom Araya

B. Paul McCartney and John Lennon

C. Rob Halford and Sammy Hagar

D. Ozzy Osbourne and Ronnie James Dio

TM CLASSIFIEDS

STUDENT HOUSING

Towne Center Condominium Rentals 1250 E. Del Amo Blvd Lakewood, CA

866-584-6825

A Great Place to Call Home! 2 Bedrooms Starting at $1450 3 Bedrooms Starting at $1775 Central Heat and Air Conditioning Roommate Friendly Floor Plans I-20 Students Welcomed 2 Relaxing Pools

Only 10 Minutes from Cerritos College Campus Direct Access to Palms Park Local Shopping, Dining and more! Furniture Rental Package - $129 a Month Call for Details - 866-584-6825 2012 Division Conferences: The conferences have changed as schools switch divisions for the 2012 fall football season. Cerritos College will now go up against Moorpark College and Pasadena City College.

PHOTO ILLUSTRATION BY LAUREN GANDARA/TM

New conferences for next football season

LAUREN GANDARA Sports Editor sports@talonmarks.com

The Southern California Football Association restructured the conferences for the 2012 and 2013 seasons, merging the National and Central Divisions to form a larger three-conference National Division.

The change means the Cerritos College football team will lose El Camino College as a conference opponent, but it will play Moorpark and Pasadena City Colleges for the next two seasons.

Running back Dominique Small talked about the team preparing for the new lineup next season.

"For the most part, everybody's working together but all the mentality is going to change once the pads are on."

pate in the South Coast Conference.

a lot more competition and it gives us that motivation that we need to work hard this off season and get back

The Falcons own the all-time series against Pasadena in football with a 19-14 record.

Lancers in 2007.

Cerritos College and Moorpark have two wins apiece against each other. The Falcons won the first two meetings, defeating the Raiders in the 1994 and 1996 Strawberry Bowls.

Moorpark has won the last two games in 2005 and

The other Cerritos College athletic teams partici- 2006, averaging a combined 23.5 points a game.

The American Division will remain the same except Linebacker Josh Finau said about the new align- for the additions of three teams formerly in the now-dement, "I think it's going to be really exciting because it's funct Central Division and it will have two eight-team

> Running back Donald Livingston said that playing new teams this next season will provide the Falcons with more competition.

"We've been preparing and we've been talking about The team also won its last match-up against the it. Everybody's working hard and doing what they have to do to get better," Livingston said.

Four teams will qualify for the Southern California

The playoff teams will be the champions of each National Division Conference and the next highestranked team in the final California Community College Athletic Association/California Community Colleges Football Coaches Association Southern California poll earning a berth.

The champions of each American Division conference will also qualify for a division championship bowl

Schedules for the upcoming season are expected to be developed by late February.

In a statement on the SCFA's website, Commissioner Jim Sartoris said," Geographical considerations and maintaining competitive balance were key factors in the placement process."

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION TAKEN FROM A PREVIOUS STORY WRITTEN BY PETE MOYE'.

Cerritos splits win with LA Valley in doubleheader

Lauren Gandara/TM And it's safe: Cerritos College infielder Chris Hefner goes for the catch to strike out LA Valley player during their second game on Saturday. Cerritos is currently 2-1 in the start of the season.

Staff Writer Lauren Gandara Sports Editor sports@talonmarks.com

Playing a doubleheader, the Cerritos College baseball team had a split win with Los Angeles Valley College, losing its first game 4-1 and winning its second game 11-10.

In its first game, the Falcons' only run came at the bottom of the first inning and were unable to score the rest of the game.

Outfielder Chris Esparza talked about the problems Cerritos faced in the game.

"Going into the first game we had confidence that we were going to swing the bat good, but defense wasn't really there, our bats weren't really there, we were just not focusing and not listening to coach," he said.

The Monarchs managed to answer back with two runs and two hits in the top of the fourth inning.

Overall the Falcons had 6 hits and 1 error.

While the Monarchs had 5 hits and 1 error. LA Valley pitcher Travis Cassidy, allowed 5 hits and no runs. Cerritos' pitcher Jacob Bell gave away 2 hits and 2 runs.

Pitcher Jared Gibson said, "It was pretty frustrating because we had so many chances to win."

Mobile second Cerritos was able to make a comeback, beating Scan to view slideshow of Valley by one Cerritos College's first three baseball games

In

the

In the first couple of in-

Valley scored the dust with home leaving

nings,

nine

runs,

Cerritos

bit.ly/zwp7BR

In third inning, Cerritos was able to score six runs on three hits, slowly catching up to LA Val-

LA Valley second base Marcel Chavez talked about what Cerritos did better in the second

"[Cerritos] stayed in it all nine innings and we sort of lost focus in the middle and towards the end."

By the seventh inning, Cerritos fought for home runs, scoring five more home runs on two hits while Valley scored one run.

With some double outs, Cerritos was able to keep LA Valley from getting any runs in both the eighth and ninth inning, giving Cerritos the win.

Cerritos pitcher Cesar Chavez said, "When I went in to pitch in this game, I just knew I had to close it off right. They did all that work, I'm not going to let them do it for nothing."

Cerritos' next game will be away against Moorpark College on Thursday at 2 p.m.

Photos Courtesy of Cerritos College Athletic Department

Sisters on and off the court: Andrina and Marissa Rendon are in their first year playing together as teammates since 2010. They both graduated from St. Paul High School where they were both named First Team All-CIF.

Rendon sisters bring their bond to the court

TAYANI DAVIS Staff Writer tayani.davis@talonmarks.com

Basketball players Andrina and Marissa Rendon are not only sisters but they bring a sisterly bond to the Cerritos College women's basketball team

Head Coach Karen Welliver commented on what the sisters bring to the team dynamic.

"They're both good teammates and a lot of our success is because they put the team first." Andrina, the eldest and Marissa played basketball as young as three and four years old. Both sisters graduated from St. Paul High School.

At St. Paul, Andrina was named First Team All-CIF as a senior and helped her team win the Del Rey League championships and was named her team's Most Valuable Player.

During the 2010-2011 season, Andrina led Cerritos College with 58 three-pointers and converted 35 percent from a three-point range. She also led the Falcons in free throw percentage, shooting 76-99 last season.

She played in 29 games during that season, starting in 27 of them.

As a freshman forward last season, she was named first in the All South Coast Conference.

Freshman guard Marissa was named the Area Player of the Year as a senior last year at St. Paul, after averaging 17 points, 10 assists

She was also named First Team All-CIF and was a First Team All-Del Rey League se-

This season, she has helped contribute to the Falcons' success, assisting them in winning most of their games with a record of 18-4.

Marissa spoke about the pre-game ritual that the sisters go through, saying, "Before every game my sister and I shoot around for a couple of hours, finding the chemistry."

Coach Welliver talked about how unique it is to have two players that are sisters.

"They're both excellent players but they both understand that in order to win it takes

"I love doing what I'm good at as well as getting along with my team," she said.

Andrina and Marissa have helped their team to numerous wins this season.

The sisters both agreed that they want to win the state conference championship and take state title.

Six Falcon football players sign their letters of intent

[My family is] really happy. They're really close to the coaching staff.

Semisi Tupou

LAUREN GANDARA Sports Editor sports@talonmarks.com

National Football Signing Day occurred Feb. 1 as six Cerritos College football players were signed to four-year schools.

Among the six were defensive tackle Fred Lavulo and offensive guard Semisi Tupou.

Lavulo was recruited by University of Idaho, Michigan State and Southwestern Louisiana.

He decided that he wanted to go to Michigan State because he liked their football program and a former Falcon player, Fou Fonoti, is currently playing there.

As far as his major is concerned, Lavulo said, "Another reason I wanted to go to Michigan State because of their applied science pro-

Tupou was recruited by University of Idaho, Ole Miss, Northern Arizona, Marshall, Southwestern Louisiana, and several other eastern universities.

He decided to go to University of Idaho and said, "It was more family oriented, I like that kind of atmosphere. It was laid back, not to wild so I could get my work done.

The football program is a great pro-

He talked about what his family thought of him moving to the East

"They're really happy. They're really close to the coaching staff so the move wasn't a big deal," Tupou said.

Tight end Clark Evans signed with the University of Hawaii, strong safety Daniel Roundtree signed with Southern Methodist University, linebacker Dominic Sierra is going to play for Northern Colorado University, and offensive lineman Brandon Davidson will be play for Benedictine College.

All four players were unavailable for comment.

Scan to listen to an interview with Fred Lavulo and Semisi Tupou

http://bit.lyxilT2m

Rendon's 18 points assists Falcons in win over LBCC

Contributor sports@talonmarks.com

Freshmen Andrina Rendon led the Cerritos College women's basketball team with 18 points in their 70-52 win over rival Long Beach City College.

"We had no doubt that we were going to win today. We took good shots which led to the victory", Rendon said.

LBCC was able to score the first shot of the game, but the Falcons (20-6) were able to answer back with a three pointer seconds later.

The Vikings kept a tight defense on Cerritos, getting an early block early 12-5 lead.

Due to LBCC getting 10 fouls in the first half, the Falcons were able to score enough free-throws to remain in the game.

Both teams were making shots back and forth, with LBCC leading by four with minutes left in the half.

After making her free throw, Roberts was able to give the Falcons a one-point lead over LBCC, 36-35 at the end of the half.

The Falcons maintained the lead for most of the game.

Cerritos Head Coach Karen Welliver commented on what as-bounds, which helped them get second chance shots, was key for today's victory"

Sophomore forward Dershawna Staves was able to rack up 13, with Marrissa Rendon having 11, and Roberts getting 10.

The win kept the Falcons in second place in the South Coast Conference with a conference record of

The Falcons next game will be on Feb 8 against third place East LA sisted in the victory. Four Cerritos College soccer players sign at universities, will start next season

ALEXA BAZUA Staff Write alexa.bazua@talonmarks.com

After making it to the Southern California Regional Playoffs and becoming a nationally ranked team, four Cerritos College soccer players have been signed to four-year col-

Defender Jaime Cano will be with Division I Cal State Fullerton next season. The future Titan was named 1st Team All-South Coast Conference, and helped the falcon defense end the season ranking No. 10 in the country.

Cano's choice was influenced by the proximity of the school, as well as because of his major.

"I'm studying business, and they have a pretty good business program, so it had a big influence on my decision" he said.

"I just like the environment, they have a similar mentality that we have at Cerritos, it's like a family environment, so that was really important to me," he added.

Defensive Player of the Year Alejandro Covarrubias will join CSU Dominguez's back line next season.

"I'm just ready to get there, work hard and hopefully win a national championship" he said.

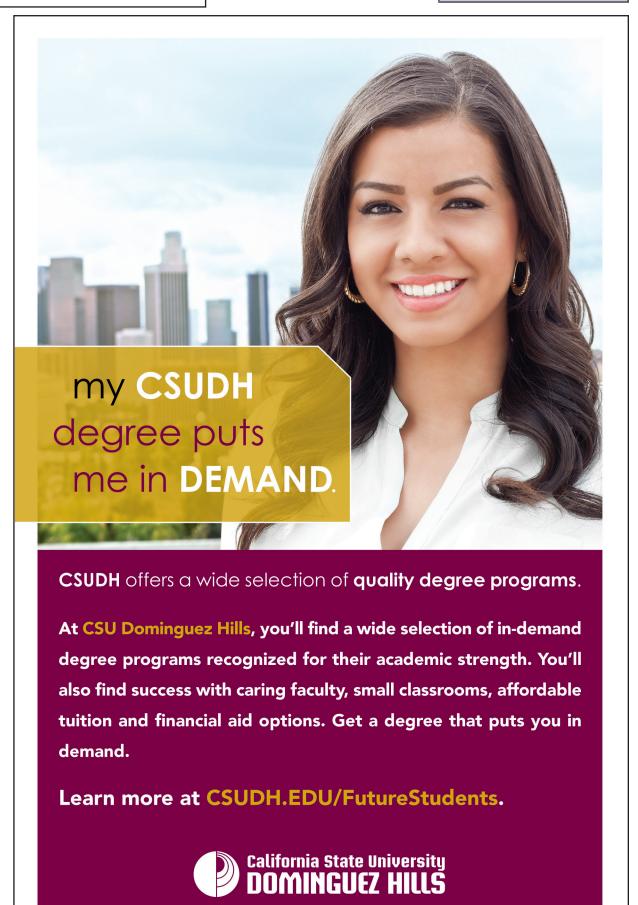

Forward Aaron Macedo and midfielder Juan Ochoa will both be at Cal State LA next season.

Macedo and Ochoa will be filling in the spots of graduating senior Golden Eagles, who won the NCAA Division II West Region Championship this past season.

"As soon as I finished here, it was an option automatically, so I decided to go there," Macedo said.

Macedo has been playing soccer since the age of four and is thankful to his family for introducing him to soccer at a young age.

"We didn't win, but I learned a lot and that's a good thing. That's what I want to do, take my experience over there."

(310) 243-3696 • 1000 E. Victoria Street • Carson, CA 90747